KAREN WALKER

A bridge teacher for over thirty years, Karen devotes most of her time to our game. She is the author of a teaching textbook, "Bridge for Beginners and Beyond" and writes a monthly column in the Bridge Bulletin.

Her website, www.kwbridge.com, is a great place to find articles on how to improve your bidding and play. She is the owner of a club in Champaign, IL and finds time to direct, edit the District 8 newsletter and chair a Regional tournament. Karen is an Emerald Life Master and has won two national championships.

In "real life" she is a freelance copywriter and teaches online courses in advertising and English at a community college.

She will be presenting the following topics.

- Sat, 11 Sept, 9.30am – 12.30pm      The Danger Zone – How to survive – and prosper – in the most common but problem-prone bidding situations
- Sat, 11 Sept, 1.30pm – 4.30pm      Golden Rules of Partnership Bidding – Time tested guidelines for improving your communication with any partner
- Sun, 12 Sept, 9.30am – 12.30pm      Play and Defend Workshop – Tips and techniques you can use every time you play

On Sunday afternoon, all participants are invited to play in the regular Unit game. Karen will play a hand or two with as many players as possible and discuss a few key hands after the session.

The cost per session will be $7 ($20 for all three) and will include a sandwich lunch for participants.
